Celebrate Easter with Q Station Family Fun Package

Sydney's historic harbourside retreat, Q Station, is offering the perfect way to escape the hustle and bustle of the city during the Easter holidays with a new Family Fun Package.

Priced from $230* per night the Family Fun Package includes accommodation for a family of four, buffet breakfast, a free in-room movie and a family pass to Oceanworld Aquarium. In addition, kids eat free when dining with two paying adults at the property's waterfront Boilerhouse Restaurant.

Tucked away in the bushland of Sydney Harbour National Park at North Head only five minutes from Manly, Q Station offers stunning harbour views and a peaceful location to reconnect with family over the holiday period.

A bevy of activities are available for all ages, from tours detailing the property's fascinating history, ghost tours suitable for families and guided nature walks of the National Park taking in the endangered flora and fauna.

The property's waterfront location means guests can also enjoy a secluded harbour beach, ideal for young families, as well as the Boilerhouse Restaurant located right next to the beach.

For full details and bookings contact Q Station on 02 9466 1551 or visit www.qstation.com.au

* Deal valid from 2-18 April 2010. Minimum two-night stay. Children must be aged 12 and under. Deal based on family room for two adults and two children.
