

Q STATION EDUCATION

GENERAL OVERVIEW

What is the Q Station?

Q Station, is Sydney's former Quarantine Station, set up to limit the infectious disease spread into the colony of Sydney. First used in 1828, 580 ships sailed through Quarantine until 1984, quarantining and isolating their passengers, to stop the spread of disease.

Our school excursions offer a unique blend of heritage, environmental education, and hands-on activities, all located within the surrounds of Sydney Harbour National Park.

Why Visit Us?

Jump back in time to explore Australia's most significant Quarantine Station. Visit the historic hospital, shower block, and witness first hand the living conditions of passengers coming through our site between 1828 and 1984.
